VELUWE HOTEL DE BEYAERD

Hulshorst Estate Walk (30 minutes)

The walking route begins at the rear entrance of ‘de Beyaerd’. Turn right here onto the asphalt road. Please walk on the left-hand side of the road, as cars often travel at high speeds here. On your right, you will see a white gate marked “Landgoed Hulshorst”; turn right here. Immediately take the dirt path to the left. At the fork, keep to the right. Cross the small bridge and continue straight ahead across the grassy area until you reach a brick-paved path.

To your right, you will see the carriage house (koetshuis). This building was once part of a large manor house known as ‘Huize Hulshorst’. Built in the 15th century, Huize Hulshorst was demolished in 1941 because the owner feared it would be seized and used by the Germans. The pond and a row of magnificent copper beeches still remain. A small cluster of trees near the pond marks the original site of the manor. Over the years, the carriage house has served various purposes: it housed horses for the Nunspeet municipal mounted police and later functioned as an art gallery and an art rental service. Today, it serves as a stunning venue for weddings, celebrations, and meetings.

To continue your walk, turn left onto the brick-paved path until you reach the paved road, ‘Vuurkuilweg’. Turn left and follow this road until you see the rear entrance of ‘de Beyaerd’ on your left. Alternatively, you can walk along the estate grounds to the left, running parallel to the asphalt road.
